2. Teacher Scheduled Professional Learning Days (3 days or 18 hours)

For the 2018-19 school year, a teacher is responsible for a minimum of 18 hours of professional learning, at least 9 of which should be menu credit. A teacher may choose to earn all required 18 hours with menu-driven courses. Additional hours beyond the required may be applied to license renewal and as additional hours on the Professionalism Rubric.

- Menu professional learning hours provide time for teachers to engage in identified topics, which support district and school goals. Menu professional learning offerings are posted and offered throughout the year, including after school, weekends, and during the summer. Menu credit is approved through the district.
- Personal professional learning choice hours provide experiences that are not necessarily based on district needs but meet needs of a particular teacher or a particular school. Personal Choice hours are approved through the principal. Teachers should seek this approval, PRIOR to attendance, by filling out a Personal Choice Professional Learning Rubric, which may be found in the school office.

In order to ensure that credit is posted, professional learning hours should be reported in a timely manner to Mary Decker (menu hours) or Faith Maxwell (choice hours).
